

Directions to the Molecular Imaging Instrumentation Lab,
Always Building, Room M001, Stanford University

Directions:

Always Building is a part of the “waffle-like” building that is the Stanford Hospital and Medical School. Go into the first courtyard (the courtyard that is closest to the Clark Center). There should be a sign saying “Always Cafe” pointing into that courtyard). You will see a flight of stairs going down in the courtyard. Go down the stairs and go inside. Turn LEFT and walk until the end of the hallway, where you’ll see a door. Go through the door. Once you go through the door, immediately turn LEFT and walk to the end of the hallway. You will see Room M001 on your RIGHT (indicated by a star on the map above).
